

MISCELLANEOUS

Over one thousand bills have been proposed in our Legislature already, six hundred of which are recommended for passage and printed. What a blessed thing for Missouri that our Legislature happened to meet, for the state must have been perishing for want of law.

The N. Y. Tribune says, the stock of manufactured goods in the factories on Fall River, Mass. is over one billion pieces, with a falling market. This is the result of over stimulation by tariff. Soon must the factories go down and the days of 1873 be repeated.

The Czar of Russia, Alexander II was murdered March, 18th inst. A few men, riding in an open barouche, came close to his carriage and hurled into it several shells that exploded with awful force, overturning and destroying everything in and about the imperial carriage, killing or wounding twenty persons. The Czar's legs were fearfully mangled, had to be amputated and he died from the exhaustion.

Thus perished by the hands of fiends one whose name will go down to all future ages as the greatest emancipator of his race that ever lived. For he freed over twenty millions of people from a slavery as bad as our late American institution. It was this move, coupled with his reformatory spirit that created the enemies who finally destroyed him. The law and ages of custom made him the supreme Head of a Despotism. But the great Aristocrats of Russia, jealous of his doctrines favoring equal rights and desirous of perpetuating their exclusive advantages, destroyed him.

A Splendid Showing for the Republican Party in County Indebtedness.

The State Auditor's report shows that there are twenty-five counties in the State that have no bonded indebtedness, as follows: Atchison, Andrew, Barry, Bollinger, Caldwell, Carter, Cedar, Christian, DeKalb, Gasconade, Harrison, Hickory, Holt, Iron, Miller, Mississippi, Monticau, Newton, Nodaway, Perry, Reynolds, St. Francois, Louis, Scott and Washington. Of these fourteen have Republican or mixed county officers and seven of them, Atchison, Andrew, Caldwell, DeKalb, Harrison, Holt, and Nodaway are in the Northwest. It is truly a roll of honor in which the minority party of the State leads the van, and the Republicans of the Northwest carry the banner. The minority, all told, have forty-five members in the House, and one-third of the territory they represent is out of debt. The Democrats have ninety-eight members, and only one-ninth of the territory they represent is out of debt. This would appear to indicate the economic administrative ability of the parties.

How Is That?

Mr. Editor:—My statement as to a suitable point for a bridge is contradicted by "Newpointer." The statement referred to is in reference to a suitable point for a bridge across the Nodaway River. We will notice his first contradiction, as he has two. He has the center point between the Graham and Holister bridges, two and a quarter miles North of the point mentioned in my statement. That would put the bridge just where it would be most convenient for himself. Mr. "Newpointer" would need a flat boat to get to his bridge now, as is generally the case. He says also, there are no laid out roads. In answer to this we would say with our kindest feelings only, that we advise him to carefully examine the Register. Do not intimate by your signature that New Point is opposed to this, by far the most suitable point, the DeBolt ford.

John Curtis's Grove.

In 1865 Mr. John Curtis, who resides in the Curtis settlement north of Oregon concluded to plant a small grove as a wind brake for his house. In the spring he went to the Missouri bottom where millions of little cotton-wood sprouts were growing, and pulled several thousand; "pulled them just as we pulled flax" he says. Taking these home he planted about two acres by drawing a furrow, dropping a sprout at proper intervals, then drawing another furrow to cover them. The whole work of pulling, hauling, and planting took not over two days. He says all of the plants grew but about twenty five, and that the value of that grove has been inestimable. It has furnished him poles, wood, brush, and supplied him in every conceivable thing for which cotton wood may be used and might be derived during twelve years. How many hundreds of days of hauling from the timber some miles distant has this little investment of two days labor saved to him in twelve years? Besides, he used the ground for two years for growing corn and the grove has been a protection against the wind, and a beautiful ornament to his property.

Holt County Normal Institute. This enterprise is receiving encouragement from all. We are enrolling quite lively, and hope to have sufficient number enrolled by Saturday, March, 19th to be prepared to organize, elect officers, and decide by vote where we shall hold the summer session.

The members are generally in favor of a four weeks session, which is a splendid idea.

An able Instructor will be employed from abroad, and no pains will be spared to make it a grand success.

Mound City school board has a called meeting this week for the purpose of discussing the question of additional school building. Our building is fast to overflowing. Two hundred pupils enrolled and only seating for one hundred and eighty. Many are in favor of adding to the present building making it nearly double its present size, which will make it a convenient well proportioned and magnificent structure.

THE LITERARY REVOLUTION.

Change of Base. This very remarkable enterprise continues to make such progress as to astonish its friends and astound its enemies. Its greatly increasing popularity has compelled the removal of its head quarters from the Tribune Building to the very large and beautiful building, No. 764 Broadway, which is in the very midst of the book district of New York City, and, therefore, of the publishing enterprise of the nation. This building, though six stories in height, 25 feet front and 100 feet deep is sufficient only for the offices and retail store of the Company. The manufacturing is carried on in several large buildings located in other parts of the city, though it is contemplated concentrating them soon in one immense factory to be erected. Their lists of recent and early forthcoming publications are extremely interesting to all who enjoy what is choicest in literature. The Library Magazine is unique in both form and character and altogether delightful in the richness of its contents. Of the books announced, Green's larger "History of the English People," reduced from $10 to $1; Carlyle's "History of the French Revolution," reduced to 40 cents; Carlyle's "Heroes and Hero Worship," 25 cents, and the "Revised New Testament," which is promised to be manufactured with rapidity heretofore unheard of, will attract special attention. It is worth while for every one who has not already seen it, to send and get the illustrated pamphlet, "Book-Making, and Type Setting by Steam," which will be sent free upon application. Address, the American Book Exchange, 764 Broadway, New York, or W. W. Davenport, sole agent or Holt county, Oregon, Mo.

A Good Housewife.

The good housewife, when she is giving her house its spring renovating, should bear in mind that the dear inmates of her house are more precious than many houses, and that their systems need cleansing by purifying the blood, regulating the stomach and bowels to prevent and cure the diseases arising from spring malaria and miasma, and she must know that there is nothing that will do so perfectly and surely as Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines. See other column.

Blue Grass Not Blue Grass.

It seems that this grass we have heretofore called Blue Grass is June grass or Green sward. The Planter and Farmer of Richmond, Va., says so. The true Blue Grass is blue and grows freely in parts of Virginia, especially in the Piedmont pastures and makes the finest meat in the world. The so called Kentucky Blue Grass is June Grass and is Green. Perhaps the true Blue grass would do well here, seeing the other does not. It might be just the grass for this region.

Workingmen.

Before you begin your heavy spring work after a winter of relaxation, your system needs strengthening and cleansing to prevent an attack of Ague, Bilious or Spring Fever, or some other spring sickness that will unfit you for a season's work.
